

The State of the Science on Mental Health and HIV-Related Health Behavior Interventions

David Pantalone, PhD

David Pantalone, PhD is the Director of the Clinical Psychology Doctoral Program and an Associate Professor of Psychology at the University of Massachusetts Boston. His research includes the development and efficacy testing of cognitive behavioral interventions, as well as the dissemination and implementation of evidence-based practices, focused on preventing and treating HIV and ameliorating LGBT health disparities.

February 19th, 2019 | 2-3 PM
Public Affairs Building, Room 2355
Refreshments will be served

RSVP: <https://davidpantalone.eventbrite.com>

CALIFORNIA
HIV / AIDS POLICY
RESEARCH CENTERS